

High School Science Teacher

Up to 0.80 FTTE or 1.0 FTTE for the right person

Are you a passionate and inspiring science teacher looking for an opportunity to make a difference in a growing school? KingsGate School seeks a qualified and enthusiastic high school science teacher to join our team. The successful candidate will teach science to students in Y11–13 while also delivering engaging lessons to our junior high school students.

KingsGate School is a Christian state-integrated area school that values academic excellence and personal growth within a Christ-centered environment. Therefore, all candidates must be practising Christians and committed to upholding the school's special character.

We are looking for someone who:

Is passionate about teaching and bringing science to life for students.

Has strong subject knowledge and a commitment to ongoing professional development.

Is adaptable and can create a positive, engaging learning environment.

Demonstrates a caring and supportive attitude toward students, fostering both their academic and personal growth.

Can work collaboratively with other teachers and contribute to our growing school community.

As we are a rapidly expanding area school, this role presents exciting opportunities for professional growth and leadership.

Please advise in your application of any other curriculum areas you are confident teaching as we value versatility in our staff.

Please send your CV and cover letter or direct enquiries to:

Jared Stein

principal@kingsgate.school.nz

(09) 239 0297