We are nearly there. Over the last week we have had a series of events, large and small, to acknowledge the efforts, talents and achievements of our tamariki. On Friday, our Certificate Assembly was focused on celebrating the progress key students had made through the year – not just academically, but in the performing arts, as social leaders, for their service to the school and their extra-ordinary effort. Thank you to all the whanau who were there to support at the Certificate Assembly, and those who attended our Year 6 graduation event on Monday evening. It was a special occasion for our rangatahi, who suddenly seemed a year older already!

Today, at our Trophy Assembly we celebrated excellence in academia, culture, social leadership, the arts, sports and leadership. The dilemma with this event is that there are many, many students who could have won trophies, because we have many, many students who are focused, hardworking and achieving success in learning. Congratulations to our prize winners.

This week I had the privilege of having 'the last word' in Student Portfolios. Across the school, students have worked hard this year and they really, really do deserve a holiday and some treats. I would like to thank our kaiako and staff, for their mahi this year. It has been a big year of progress and achievement.

Finally, I would like to thank Maggie Reid, not just for all that she has done this year, or this term, but for the 24 years of service she has given to Flanshaw Road School. Maggie has been acknowledged by those who know her over this term. I know she has appreciated each and every message of thanks from students, staff and whanau. We all wish her, and her whanau well for the future. We have a final assembly on Monday for Maggie at 2.00 pm in the hall, just to make sure she knows how much she is loved and how much she will be missed.

As this is the final newsletter of the year, I would like to wish everyone a safe and happy holiday break. Mere Kirihimete. We look forward to seeing all our tamariki on Monday 2 February 2026, ready for another great year of learning.

Principal – Dr Cherie Taylor-Patel
