Dear Parents and Students of Fairfield College,

We are excited to announce the launch of Te Arawhiti Matihiko Kaupapa – The Digital Bridge Project, an initiative dedicated to providing digital devices to students who currently lack access. In today's educational landscape, technology plays a crucial role in learning, and our goal is to ensure that every student at Fairfield College has the tools necessary to succeed.

This project has been made possible through the generous support of Fonterra and Quadrent, who have supplied a significant number of devices. Their substantial contributions reflect a shared commitment to education and community development, enabling us to further bridge the digital divide within our school and foster an inclusive environment where all students can thrive. We also acknowledge the support from a donor that wishes to remain anonymous and our school-based Recycle A Device program, whose efforts have further bolstered this initiative. We are optimistic that this is just the beginning of ongoing support to benefit our students.

We have approximately 90 laptops available for distribution, with priority given to Year 12 and Year 13 students. We encourage students in need of a digital device to apply for this program. Applications can be submitted through the school office or via the link below. Our team is available to assist with the application process and to answer any questions you may have.

By participating in Te Arawhiti Matihiko Kaupapa, students will gain access to essential digital resources, enhancing their learning experiences and supporting their academic progress. We believe that this initiative will empower our students to engage more deeply with their studies and achieve their full potential.

Thank you for your continued support as we work together to provide equitable learning opportunities for all members of the Fairfield College community.

Ngā mihi nui,

Richard Crawford
