

Matamata Intermediate

2nd November 2023

Teena taatou e te whaanau

Camps are off to a great start and although the weather didn't come to the party to start the week, it didn't put a damper on the first classes who enjoyed their time at Epworth. Over the next few weeks, all our classes will experience this camp EOTC (Education Outside The Classroom) experience and we need to say a massive thank you to those adults who are able to join us to enable this to happen. I have also attached a message from Matamata Principals, who collaboratively have been working on EOTC.

Sitting alongside our learning this week, we have also had a CCC focus on E Tuu Taangata means 'Stand Together'. We have looked at what it means to support each other and to make others feel valued. How do we talk to each other in positive ways, to build others up? What impact does our behaviour have on others? Camp is a great environment to practise positive behaviours.

Kia ora Whānau

Recently, schools from within the Matamata area came together to discuss the important issue of EOTC (Education Outside The Classroom) and how current legislation impacts our schools. It was our intention to align expectations and procedures across our schools as best we could so that parents and whānau see similar school expectations regardless of where they attend in the area. We have made a great start and will continue collaborating on this. Hopefully, our efforts will make it easier for parents and whānau as they transition through the schools or from one to another if they have to shift.

In light of tragic events that have happened on school-based trips over recent years, all schools in Matamata have been reflecting on their processes and systems, which may mean some changes in the way that we take steps to reduce risks. Please know that this is all in an effort to ensure the highest possible standards of safety for your tamariki, whether that's during a day trip, camp, interschool activity, or extracurricular sport. Our aim is to ensure all learners in Matamata have enjoyable and meaningful experiences outside of the school environment with their safety and wellbeing our top priority.

Should you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to contact your school's principal or EOTC coordinator for further clarification.
