

Kia ora e te whānau,

A huge thank you to the families who braved the elements for our Community Day working bee yesterday. Despite the soggy start, your hard work paid off—we ticked off every single task on the list, and the school looks absolutely fantastic!

It was especially wonderful to see so many familiar faces; beyond our current families, we were thrilled to welcome back several former members of the CTMS community. Having that continued support means the world to us and truly shows the strength of our school spirit.

We hope everyone has dried off and made it home safely.
