PRINCIPAL'S NOTE

Kia Ora

Congratulations to our Kapa Haka Roopu and our junior school for their performances at the Tamaki-Nui-a-Rua Festival today. They did us all proud and I have had so many comments about how amazing they were.

Huge thank you to Rocky, Helen, Leah and helpers for your commitment to our tamariki, for all the organisation and time spent. We are so privileged to have such skilled people in our community.

Mā te Atua koutou e manaakii ngā wā katoa
May God always bless you.

CATHOLIC CHARACTER

Social Justice Week - last week,

Te Wiki o Te Maori (Maori Language Week) - this week.

This week we have transitioned from Social Justice Week, where we delved into the theme of "Peace begins with you! / Ka tīmata tonu te Rangimārie i roto i ā koe!", into Māori Language Week with the same spirit of harmony and unity.

The Māori word "rangimārie" beautifully encapsulates the essence of positive peace, combining "rangi" (expanding outward, like the sky) and "mārie" (peace, harmony, completeness, tranquility). It reminds us that peace starts within ourselves and radiates outward.

When we greet each other with "Ata mārie!" (Good morning!), we're not just exchanging words; we're sharing the power of peace and understanding, recognizing that it's something we must nurture within and extend to the world through our connections.

Let's carry on the themes explored during Social Justice Week and Māori Language Week, using language as a bridge to promote justice, peace, and unity.
